Providing Humanitarian Assistance to Economically Affected People due to Flood in ASSAM

Activity Report on Relief Distribution

JULY-2025

Background and Purpose: -

As in previous years, India continues to face severe flooding during the monsoon season. Among the affected states, Assam is one of the most flood-prone and consistently experiences widespread devastation. This year, Assam once again witnessed catastrophic flooding, affecting more than 1.5 million people. The situation was exacerbated by continuous heavy rainfall, causing all major rivers to rise above the danger level and severely impacting human lives, livestock, crops, and infrastructure.

Over 193,941 hectares of farmland have been submerged, displacing thousands of families. Many people have lost their homes and are struggling to survive without access to food, clean drinking water, or basic sanitation. The lack of electricity for several days has further worsened conditions, forcing many to consume contaminated floodwater. Additionally, the risk of waterborne and mosquito-borne diseases such as malaria and dengue has significantly increased, as this is the peak season for such illnesses across the country.

While the floods have affected everyone, the devastation has been especially harsh on vulnerable groups living on the margins of society—daily wage laborers, farmers, rickshaw pullers, domestic workers, widows, and the elderly. These individuals are now left with little or no means of survival.

In response to this humanitarian crisis, The Muneer Social Welfare Society, with the consultation and support of Tree of Life International Pvt. Ltd. In light of the critical needs identified, MSWS initiated emergency relief efforts to distribute essential materials and bring hope to the affected communities.

The flood relief camps were conducted from 7th to 17th July 2025 in Belortari, Goma Phulbari, Dihiri Chapori, Tangani Jangal Block, Upper Assam Division, and Barua Village in Assam. During this period, a total of 14,986 people—comprising 2,997 families, with an average of five members each—received emergency flood relief, including 1 week's supply of rations and other essential items. The affected communities expressed deep gratitude for bringing hope during a time of despair and for restoring light in their lives amid such hardship.

Implementation and Outcomes: -

The relief operation was conducted over two days, from 5th to 6th July 2025, covering several flood-affected regions of Assam. With the help of local volunteers and partners, Muneer distributed essential supplies including-Dry ration kits (rice, wheat, pulses, salt, soyabean, oil, etc.) and Hygiene items such as detergent powder and soaps.

Through this effort, 14,986 people received immediate relief and support to help them survive the critical period following the floods.

IMPACT: -

MSWS & TOL along with other Local Partners organized relief camps from 7th to 17th July 2025 in 7 communities: Belortari, Goma Phulbari, Dihiri, Chapori, Tangani Jangal Block, Upper Assam Division, and Barua Village in Assam. During this period, a total of 15,000 people—comprising 3,000 families, with an average of five members each—received emergency flood relief, including one month's supply of rations and other essential items. This intervention provided timely support to thousands of flood victims, helping to prevent hunger, dehydration, and disease outbreaks. It also restored hope and dignity to the affected families, reflecting solidarity and compassion during a time of great distress.

Social Impact

The Emergency Flood Relief Camps served not only as a platform for aid distribution but also as a bridge to build lasting social connections and mutual trust.

- About 15,000 people were able to receive eseential items for immediate survival. Receiving these items helped the people to fight and overcome critical situation.
- Due to the floods, many people were starving. But through the combined efforts of Muneer and Tree of Life, all the beneficiaries and especially the children were able to finally noursish themselves with nurtitious food.
- Strong relationships were built with the local people through compassionate service, consistent presence, and active listening. The affected communities recognized Muneer Social Welfare Society & TOL not just as an aid provider, but as a caring partner in their time of crisis.
- People from different communities came together in these camps, setting aside differences to support one another. This unity fostered a spirit of mutual respect, cooperation, and collective resilience.
- Many beneficiaries were emotionally broken and had lost hope. Receiving aid with love and dignity brought a sense of value and belonging, rekindling their strength to move forward.

Conclusion: -

The Emergency Flood Relief Distribution in Assam stands as a testament to Muneer Social Welfare Society's commitment to humanitarian service. By reaching 14,986 people from 7th July to 15th July 2025, the initiative demonstrated effective planning, swift action, and compassionate outreach during a critical time.

Moving forward, Muneer remains committed to supporting long-term recovery efforts and building disaster-resilient communities through sustained partnerships, resource mobilization, and grassroots engagement.
